

Chris is a future-focused, visionary leader who has a history of uniting leadership teams to drive holistic, customer-centric business transformation. He builds energised, agile, high performing teams and organisational networks to catalyse change and deliver beyond expectations. He is naturally inquisitive, analytical, deeply in tune with the world around him. He finds energy by helping others find better solutions through innovative problem-solving. Inspired to deliver better patient outcomes & by the future of healthcare he has an insatiable internal drive to mobilise meaningful change to deliver world-class customer and patient experience.