

Gary is currently the Head of Process Science and Technology at Tessa Therapeutics, a cell and gene therapy company based in Singapore and USA. Prior to his current role, he held manufacturing, technical development and CMC roles in Shire, Takeda, Baxter Bioscience, UCB over a span of more than 15 years. Gary graduated with a PhD. in Biochemical Engineering from the University of Birmingham, UK.