

George joined Takeda in 2018 as Head of Manufacturing and was appointed Site Head a year later. He has over 25 years of experience in the pharmaceutical industry from Technical Development, Value Stream, Operational Excellence and Sustainability as well as Planning and Logistics.

He was also based in Shanghai for 3 years as GSK's China Regional Supply Chain Head. Before his China posting, George was Vice President of Singapore National Institute of Chemistry and Chairman of the Technical Committee for the Biomedical sector in the Workforce Development Agency.

A chemistry graduate from National University of Singapore and MBA from Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology University, Australia, George is a Chartered Chemist, Fellow of Royal Society of Chemistry and a certified Master Black Belt.