

Mrunalini brings over 15 years' experience from research, academia, biopharma, IT & CRO industries. Currently, she is Data Management Lead with SICS-A*STAR, a government organization in Singapore. Recently she co-founded a Singapore based company that develops industry agnostic IoT products and AI solutions.

Previously with various organizations in India, Japan and UK, Mrunalini steered global data management projects across US, EU & APAC. A recipient of scholarships, she holds a Masters in Data Science and Analytics from Royal Holloway University of London, UK, is a Lean Six Sigma Black Belt and certified scrum product owner (CSPO). Mrunalini has authored many articles, presenting latest trends and technologies in biopharma at various conferences in Singapore, India, Germany and USA, participating in joint meetings organised by EMA GCP Inspectors Working Group with FDA and judging national level science and engineering competitions in Singapore.